

Ceragon Sets the Record Straight on Engagement with Aviat Networks

Remains Open to a Deal that Would Deliver Full, Fair and Certain Value to ALL Ceragon's Shareholders

Sends Letter to Aviat Board Responding to Aviat's Misleading Communications

Rosh Ha'ain, Israel, 25 July 2022 – Ceragon Networks Ltd. (NASDAQ: CRNT) (the "Company", "Ceragon", "we", "us", or "our") today sent a letter to the Board of Directors of Aviat Networks, Inc. (NASDAQ: AVNW) in response to Aviat's recent misleading claims about its indication of interest to acquire Ceragon.

Ceragon's Board remains unanimous in its view that Aviat's indicative deal terms, including the $2.80 per share indicative price, are unacceptable and significantly undervalues the Company. If Aviat is successful in its hostile attack and will take control over Ceragon's Board, it alone will enjoy the upside, depriving all other Ceragon shareholders of the chance to obtain the significant value the Ceragon Board expects the Company's shareholders to achieve.

The Ceragon Board has always been willing to consider a potential combination with Aviat, but only if such combination delivers full, fair and certain value to all Ceragon's shareholders.

Ceragon urges its shareholders to protect their investment by voting the WHITE proxy card "AGAINST" Aviat's attempt to take control of the Board to force a depriving deal term with their senders.

The full text of the letter follows:

July 25, 2022
Board of Directors of Aviat Networks, Inc.,

On June 22, 2022, members of our Board and management team met with members of Aviat's board and its senior management in Israel to discuss the terms of an acquisition of Ceragon. Our management team and Board believed that both parties respectfully communicated their positions. Specifically, the Aviat management team committed to send Ceragon a diligence request list outlining its key diligence needs. Coming out of this meeting, our management team and Board members in attendance believed we were continuing negotiations in good faith, and advised our entire Board accordingly.

Six days later, rather than continuing good-faith discussions, as we expected, and without warning, Aviat announced a hostile offer to acquire Ceragon and take control of the Ceragon Board. It is now clear that Aviat's disingenuous positioning at the June meeting was merely a ruse for Aviat's low-ball, highly conditional bid.

We were disappointed to learn that our attempt to hold good faith negotiations with you was not reciprocated. Aviat recently disclosed that it had been acquiring shares in stealth since April – Aviat’s effort to launch a hostile campaign against us was underway well before our June meeting. Aviat’s goal appears to be to put its hand-selected, inexperienced Board nominees in charge of its principal competitor (when Ceragon is taking market share from Aviat) and to force an acquisition of Ceragon at a deeply depressed price – thus depriving Ceragon shareholders of full, fair and certain value – and only benefitting Aviat shareholders.

In Aviat’s last letter to Ceragon’s shareholders, it cited research analysts discussing the upside of a combination of our companies. As further indication of your lack of forthrightness, you failed to mention to our shareholders that your purported proposal was designed to provide almost all of this benefit to Aviat shareholders – and you also failed to mention Ceragon’s analyst price targets, which are well above your purported proposal.

Given the weakness of your purported offer and your disingenuous behavior, as opposed to our willingness to conduct good faith discussions, it is clear that electing your hand-picked Board nominees and putting them in charge of deal negotiations for Ceragon is not in the interest of Ceragon shareholders.

Ceragon has never opposed a fairly valued, fully financed transaction with Aviat or anyone else. As we have previously noted to your management team and publicly, Ceragon will consider all opportunities to enhance shareholder value, including a potential combination with Aviat, that deliver full, fair and certain value to Ceragon's shareholders.

However, the value you indicated is well below the value of the Company. Our largest shareholder, JDS Capital, many other shareholders that we have spoken with, independent research analysts and the financial analysis from our independent financial advisor, all agree that Ceragon’s value is much higher than the value you have purported to offer.

As we have said, in light of Aviat’s financial condition and current market conditions, we continue to have serious concerns regarding your ability to deliver firmly committed financing, especially in a market where many leveraged transactions have been put on hold due to lack of financing. You have not provided any evidence that we can rely upon, that you are capable of acquiring Ceragon and financing such a transaction in the current market environment; your evidence of financing did not include a firm dollar amount, which was not highly conditional and subject to market conditions, nor did it include a source demonstrating how you would finance an acquisition of Ceragon.

Absent a significantly improved value and deal certainty, we can only continue to believe that Aviat is principally interested in publicly disparaging Ceragon and disrupting and damaging our business, and that your ultimate goal is to take control of our Board in order to damage a competitor or to avoid a good faith negotiation for a fair transaction.

Best regards,

The Ceragon Board
