With customers' needs always in mind, Ceragon is unveiling new innovations that will expand its end-to-end offering to both its core business and private networks business worldwide.

- The IP-100E, powered by Ceragon's in-house proprietary system-on-a-chip, is an innovative, dual-carrier, E-band solution, delivering a game-changing 25 Gbps from one box, and up to 40 Gbps in a 4+0 all-outdoor link.

- Ceragon's EtherHaul 8020FX, a millimeter-wave backhaul solution, offers exceptional ease of installation and operations, cost efficiency, and high capacity — a must-see for anyone tackling demanding backhaul challenges.

In addition to the above products, Ceragon's IP-50EX mmW series also features a new model — the IP-50EXA — which offers the best price-performance ratio available in the industry and is already gaining significant traction in the market.

At MWC, Ceragon will also showcase its software and service offerings, including its cutting-edge Network Digital Twin, Smart Activation Key, and an interesting mix of use cases that illustrate how Ceragon enables private network operators to tackle diverse connectivity challenges with tailored, end-to-end solutions.
